Information for Beer Drinkers.

A general impression prevails that "ignorance is bliss." This manifestly depends on the nature of the ignorance and the nature of the bliss; for example—it surely cannot be a blissful state to be acquainted with the following preparations that are advertised, and, we presume, used by town and country brewers: "Bavarian bitter, one pound equals sixty-four pounds of hops. For adding to copper, or when racked." "Bisulphite of lime, for the prevention of acetous fermentation of beer." "Double humulin (aroma), for flavoring mild-like pale ales, one pound equal to thirty-two pounds of hops." "Burton water crystals, especially recommended to brewers for rendering ales more preservative, improving attenuation, dropping clearer, paler in color, more sparkling." The quotations we have given are from the advertisement sheet of a well known and officially published class journal, and clearly show that ignorance produces, at any rate in the beer drinker, headache and stomach-ache, rather than the bliss that poets write of. Now, if we could but restore the brewers of England to that condition of ignorance when they could only brew beer with malt and hops we might fairly regard it as a case of ignorance being bliss. As it is, however, this age of science has produced brewers that are chemists and wine merchants that are perfect masters in that mysterious department of knowledge which is euphemistically called "blending." We can scarcely complain of the danger that has arisen from a little knowledge; our trouble has clearly come from our drink-makers knowing too much.—London Medical Examiner.

The Rev. Dr. Crosby gives, in Sunday Afternoon, advice to mothers about the training of their daughters. He says that the idea of usefulness as a fashionable necessity for a young woman is wrong. "The boys, after leaving school or college, naturally gravitate to commerce, law, medicine, science or divinity; but the girls at a like period begin to play the fine lady, spending their day in pretty idleness. The only question which seems to be asked is, 'How can I best amuse myself?' Dr. Crosby's remedy for this evil is regular daily tasks for girls, either of household or charitable work, or of self-improvement. He thinks that young women trained in that way are more likely to get good husbands than those who devote themselves to folly. He adds: 'Perhaps you have a notion that if your daughters are out of society she might as well be in Sahara or Kamtchatka, and you have brought yourself to believe that the only society on earth is that which is distinguished by white kid gloves and gowns.' Did you ever soberly think of the possibility of life outside of the charmed circle? It is humbly believed by some that men and women, both old and young, who have had brains and hearts, have managed to enjoy life without initiation into the mysteries of fashion. Some have even dared to think that true refinement is best cultivated in a less artificial atmosphere."

A convict when asked how he came so soon to be relieved from the more irksome part of penal servitude replied, with a grin, "By taking wine regular with the chaplain"—in other words, being a communicant. It is commonly said that there is no place where a good character can be more easily earned than in jail, and the following case, which lately occurred, gives point to the assertion: A rather well dressed young man was brought before the Lord Mayor of London, charged on his own confession, with robbery. The prisoner went up to a city constable, and said he wanted to give himself up on the charge of stealing a purse. The constable put some questions to him, but he persisted in his statement, and was consequently taken to the police station. The Lord Mayor asked the prisoner if he wished to give any explanation of his conduct? He replied that he had been living a dishonest life, and could not get any employment and wished therefore to get into prison, where, by his good conduct, he might obtain a character, and be able to reform.

The following amusing incident occurred a little time ago in a second-class railway carriage: And old gentleman and his son occupied opposite corners of the carriage, the former sitting with his back to the engine. At York the train ran direct into the station, and another engine was attached to the hinder end. When the train left the station, the old man was, of course, sitting facing the engine, and his face at once assumed a studious look, which attracted the attention of his son, who forthwith asked, "Father, what are you thinking of so seriously?" The old man replied, "I am fairly puzzled! When the train entered the station, I sat opposite to you; but since it left, you are sitting opposite to me!"

EDITORS NOT A FIGHTING RACE.—A few duels have been fought between editors of newspapers. Duels between editors and outsiders are quite frequent. Dr. Smyth, of an Augusta paper, was severely wounded by Dr. Thomas some years ago. Taber was killed, while editing the Charleston Mercury, by McGraw. Barnwell Rhett, while in New Orleans journalizing a few years ago, killed Judge Coolidge. In 1854 Rea, a Vicksburg editor, was shot through both thighs by a lawyer named Evans. As a general thing editors are not personal toward each other. As a sort of safety valve, however, the Georgia Press Convention, some time ago, created a sort of Board of Honor, to which disputes between editors should be referred. There is but one editor in Georgia that ever killed a man, though there are several who seriously thought of doing so, and have even gone so far as to make arrangements looking to that end.—Philadelphia Times.

The congregation at St. Nicholas Church, Brighton, England, witnessed one Sunday last month, an event which does not come within the experience of churchgoers. The names of a certain couple having been read by the clergyman for "the third time of asking," an elderly gentleman rose in the back part of the church and fordid the bands. He was requested to communicate the nature of the objection in the vestry at the close of the service, when it appeared that the parties were under age—both young people being apprentices, earning small wages, one as a printer and the other as a dressmaker. Perhaps it might be as well if, under such circumstances, banns were forbidden more frequently.

The Committee on Federal Relations of the Maryland House of Delegates, to which was referred Montgomery Blair's memorial calling upon Congress to reopen the electoral question, has reported unfavorably thereon.

Happy.

Our city has been under the influence of her longing westward. The content has just come a mining stock exchange is to be gratified.
The preliminaries been a call of buyer 30 is and Chicago does not what she has done, or would probably be at the sharks before they any strength. To min-the results of honest ulation in mining shares leave a balance on the of the account. The glare and glitter of the share market is hurtful in every way, both to the moral and permanent growth of communities.
A prosperity which receives sudden checks is not healthy, neither is the charm which suddenly confers great wealth good fortune. The mining share market can not produce anything for Chicago, but can wring money from the laborer which he has no right to lose. It can destroy the earnings of years in a short week, and change a community from moral health to a condition bordering upon bankruptcy and dishonor. We shall hear of this new project in Chicago ere long, and there will be a many a sensation in suicides and defalcations for the Chicago newspapers to write about.
Another lamb led to the slaughter.

Among the arrivals here from the West are Ben Holladay, and less recently, Dr. Wozencraft. The first named is not likely to be here object-less, and the latter wants to let the Colorado river into the sand deserts adjacent to Fort Yuma, and thus reclaim some millions of acres of useless lands. The Doctor looks in his heavy mantle like Coriolanus, as he trends toward the Capitol, but has not the same contempt for "voices"—especially Congressional voices—as had that stilted Roman.

Speaking of desert lands and canals for irrigating the same, why can Nevada not obtain some little encouragement from the Government in this direction. Would it not be good public policy for the Government to encourage the boring of artesian wells with substantial aid in dollars and cents? We have the best soil in the world for strength, and with irrigation the tillable land which covers our silver and gold mines would prove an inexhaustible bonanza to thousands of honest farmers. Might we not obtain State aid in some way, and would it not be well for the next Legislature to repass the law which offered a bonus for the erection of the first paper or woolen mill in Nevada?

The Morning Appeal was in tears yesterday over the fact that the Enterprise supports Hayes. This is the sort of rhetorical club with which Mighels mauls his man:

This is written either by the hand or sanction of an editor who carried the returns, with a hand whose constitutionality was unwashed of doubt, the half admission of guilt against the only Senator living who had the frank and courageous manliness to stand by the name and fame and intention of General Grant whom the whole rotten gang, spawned out of the too fruitful loins of Salmon Portland Chase were ablaze with the contagious leprosy of their own foul suspicion.

Set 'em up again.

The Carson papers have received letters from the East saying that Professor Gunning is no such a thing, and they embraced publicly in their joy over the discovery. Mighels has written an epic beginning

Write you down an ass;

The Daily Whitewasher had out his little brush again on the back street this morning, and pasted up several opinions which had been handed to him during the day. This little man carries his little bucket, labeled "Public Opinion," about town all day and collects bits of lime, which are to make the next morning's whitewash, or hog wash, just as you are pleased to term it. Then he puts another coat of whitening on that report, and writes on his slate, "Public opinion endorses the Daily Whitewasher."

Now, my little man, will you be pleased to wrestle with this problem for a few minutes? Forget for a time that you set the example in your exorbitant printing contract, or that your best overseer is away, and tell us this: What has public opinion got to do with facts and figures, and why have you not dared to prove or dis-prove that report? You said you agreed with the Grand Jury report in many cases. Then, if one competent man could examine county matters in less than eighteen days, why did you not make the examination on the last Grand Jury, of which you were a member? How was it that you dared not comment on the June report? How is it that you wag your little tail always at the Court House and bark at the taxpayers?

The Armistice Conditions.

An official telegram from St. Petersburg confirms the correctness of the additional armistice conditions made yesterday. The only additional condition mentioned is the evacuation of fortresses and Salinas. Following are the conditions referred to:

That the railroad between Adrianople and Constantinople be repaired and operated, and also the telegraph lines between Adrianople and Odessa by way of Constantinople.

The raising of the blockade of the Black Sea and the Danube for everything except ammunition.

The Russians to occupy the Black Sea coast from the Russian frontier to Baltchik, and from Missioni to Derk-noi.

On the Sea of Marmora, the Russians to occupy Batjak, Tehaknadj and Bcharkeoj.

On the Egean Sea, from Enos to Mhcri.

These are in addition to the points held by the Russians at the time of the signature of the armistice.

How PACHECO WAS SWINDLED.— New York, Feb. 8.—A Times Washington special has the following on the scene in the House yesterday: Hiscock of New York led the debate on behalf of the legally elected candidate, and in a clear and forcible argument demonstrated conclusively that Wigginton had no more right to the seat in the House than had one of the pages. He was interrupted during his speech by Luttrell, who tried to break the force of his address by irrelevant questions. The attempt was a signal failure, and at the conclusion of the speech Hiscock was the recipient of the warm congratulations of all prominent Republicans on the floor.
It is worthy of note that Potter of New York was the only Democrat who had manhood enough to vote with the Republicans against the admission of Wigginton.

If Senator Jones of Nevada is a candidate for re-election, he had better ask George Gorham not to write any letters in his favor. Jones has made a splendid record as Senator, and ought to be re-elected on that alone.
If George takes a prominent part in the matter there is danger ahead.
Hands off, George.—Stock Exchange.

It has been decided to hold the Val-

The Vienna correspondent of the London Times, commenting on the Russian occupation of the defensive lines of Constantinople, says that the mystery which still envelops the conditions of the armistice leaves plenty of room for further surprises. Thus it looks very much as if the evacuation of the Danube fortresses by the Turks will turn out to mean occupation by Russians. These surprises seem to be bad preparations for the conference.

Forster's amendment to the motion

RENO EVENING GAZETTE.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Desert Land Law.

How It Operates in Nevada—The Washoe Land and Water Company.

This Company was organized on the 7th inst. in Reno, the object being to reclaim about 25,000 acres of desert or sagebrush land utterly worthless in its present state, but with sufficient water for irrigation it is said to be the best land in the State.

The Company will construct a canal from the Truckee river to bring water onto a large portion of this land during the coming Spring and Summer. The main canal will be about 50 miles in length when fully completed. The capacity of the canal to be completed this Summer has not been determined upon by the Company, but it will undoubtedly be larger than any now in use in the county.

The capital stock of the Company is $500,000, divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $5.00 each. Principal place of business, Reno, Nevada.

The incorporators, so far as we have been able to learn, are J. H. Kinkaid, C. A. Bragg, W. R. Chamberlain, A. J. Hatch, Thos. E. Haydon, R. L. Fulton, Henry Orr, and some others of Reno, Nevada, and J. H. Neff, W. B. Heyford, Coleman Brothers, and a number of other gentlemen, residents of Placer and Nevada counties, California. The stock is already nearly all taken. The Trustees for the first six months are J. H. Neff, W. B. Heyford, J. H. Kinkaid, W. R. Chamberlain and C. A. Bragg. The officers of the Company are as follows: President, J. H. Neff; Vice-President, C. A. Bragg; Secretary, R. L. Fulton; Treasurer, J. H. Kinkaid; Engineer and Superintendent, A. J. Hatch.

This enterprise is one of great importance to Reno and Washoe county. It will make the waste places of the desert in Warm Spring, Spanish and Lemmon Valleys, now grim and silent in their desolation, to awaken into new life. Hundreds of happy and prosperous homes will be founded there. Golden grain-fields and green meadows, vine-covered cottages, thrifty orchards and herds of fine stock will greet the eye, where now the coyote, the rabbit and the horned toad are the only occupants of these arid wastes, and millions will be added to the material wealth of Washoe county.

A similar scheme is being carried into effect by the Humboldt Development Company. Near Lovelocks on the C. P. R. R. in Humboldt county, this Company have their canal well under way. Another enterprise of this kind has been undertaken in Paradise Valley and vicinity in Humboldt county. Still other operations of this kind are being projected and talked of in different parts of the State. Who will say the Desert Land Law is not a blessing to Nevada?

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.—Yesterday afternoon as freight train No. 7 was going east between the Summit and Truckee, the engineer of the train saw a Chinaman just ahead of him and in the deep cut made in the snow through which the various trains pass. The poor Chinaman could not escape nor could the engineer stop the train soon enough to save John from being run over by the cars. The train sped on, and, alas for the Chinaman, it passed over his body, killing him instantly. The train was backed and proper provision made for the unfortunate man. No one was to blame, but the poor fellow paid the forfeit of life for his untowardness.

The Sierra street organ man hopes that the Grand Jury subject may be dropped. He finds that he got his shovel in the wrong place, and wants to get it out before he covers himself with slime.—Whitewasher.

Wrong again Governor, our shovel is still there and we can load your little wheelbarrow most any time.

The Gazette recognizes the fact that the Journal's opinion is not at all valuable. Nevertheless it seems considerably worried over its remarks.—Whitewasher.

Right this time, my little man, we were very much afraid that you would flop again before we could record you.

A vacuum is said to create a loud report. Query: How many vacuums were there on the Grand Jury?

One; according to subsequent testimony.

WANTED.—One or two young ladies to learn dressmaking. Apply at Mrs. Emerson's, Opposite Odd Fellows' Hall. 1-14tf Pipers Opera Troupe.

A fair house greeted Piper's troupe last evening at Smith's Hall. Promptly at 8 o'clock the curtain raised, and that old and well-known emotional drama "East Lynne" began its sad unfoldings. Love and jealousy, infidelity and intrigue each taught their often-told lessons, but far more forcibly than could be portrayed even by the cleanness of a Beecher or Simpson or by the gifted pen of a Dickens or DeQuincy. The presentation of the play was good, and the characters well cast. Of course where there are no star actresses our actors that criticize, which makes no allowance, and is unkind might illumine sought out defects, but the rendition of this fine old drama was well received by the audience. Miss Young, Mrs. Robertson, Miss Woodthorpe, Meador Vinson and Sullivan sustained their characters well.

"Jenny Lind" of course was amusing, and introduced us to that splendid little actress "Katy Mayhew". This afternoon "Marble Heart" was presented. This evening Boucicault's five-act drama "Grimaldi" should draw a good house. Grimaldi will be followed by that musical farce "The Wandering Minstrel."

The Enterprise is kind enough to express an opinion upon our affairs without any knowledge of facts. The Enterprise would do well to inform itself or attend strictly to the business of Storey county. There was not a man on that jury which might not compare with the Enterprise editor, and some of the number were as intelligent as the Daily Whitewasher himself.

If there was any misstatement made in the Grand Jury report, it can be disproved by an examination of the papers at the Court House. Does not the absence of this examination prove that the Daily Whitewasher is alone in the business?

The Reno papers are at war again. The Journal tries, as usual, to carry water on both shoulders, while the Gazette comes out in a bold, fearless manner and defends the action of the Grand Jury. Pawning is a truckler, and wants to be Lieutenant-Governor. Bah!—Carson Tribune.

County tax this year will be between $1.35 and $1.45 on the $100, or one half more than it was last year.

JUST ARRIVED.—800 pounds fresh candy, all kinds, warranted free from all injurious coloring. Call and see it at W. H. Holmes & Co's., two doors east of Postoffice. 2-9-1m.

R. E. Queen practical druggist and manufacturing chemist. All medicinal and toilet preparations made in my laboratory will be of first quality and sold at reasonable prices. Personal attention given to physicians' prescriptions.

REMOVAL.—Yankee Dodge has removed to the store formerly occupied by Misses Brown & Harney, where he will be pleased to see his friends and patrons. He will keep constantly on hand a general assortment of Yankee notions and fancy goods, and sell them cheaper than any other house in Reno. We will have an auction sale every Saturday evening. Be sure and give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. Don't forget the place, opposite the Reno Opera House, Virginia street. 1-7tf

REMOVAL NOTICE.—Osburn & Shoemaker, Druggists, inform their old patrons and the community generally, that they will, on the 1st day of February, move into the building occupied by J. N. Jaquish, one door west of their present stand. 1-23tf
